

Sent: 2007-09-20 - 09:03
Subject: Postcard

Due to some glitch you maybe didn't see all the pictures. Try again.

Sedona.

This morning we hiked the Courthouse Butte and Cathedral Rock trails.

Took some fantastic red rock pictures up Schnebly Mountain road in the afternoon. The late sun must have been hitting them just right and they nearly glowed. I uploaded the pics from the camera into the computer and wondered what the heck happened. What a bunch of plain rocks. Ahah! So I put my brown sunglasses back on and presto! Great color! Forget it.

Tonight we ate at Joey Bistro (Sedona, Las Vegas, San Carlos Mexico). We ordered the Chitarrine allo Scòglio. It was incredible! It was the best Chitarrine allo Scòglio we had ever eaten.

Afterwards we forced ourselves to split a chocolate something which was also the best chocolate something we had ever eaten. Our waiter's name was Merlin. I asked him if he was the falcon or the magician. I should just let Sheila talk.

D&S