

Sent:
Subject:

Thursday, August 20, 2009 7:49 PM
Postcard 20

Glacier National Park.

Murray is cranky. He took two shrapnel hits, one gouged a hunk out of his windshield and the other dented his hood and chipped the paint.

Sheila is cranky. First, my carefully planned route included a dirt road. Then she had to play road games with three meth heads who are still looking for Sturgis.

I am cranky. We left our Deep Forest Peruvian Blend coffee in Billings. They lied about free WiFi. It's free, but I'm sorry, it's not WiFi unless it actually connects to the Internet. You'll get these when we can send 'em.

Have a nice day.

D&S