

Sent:
Subject:

Friday, March 26, 2010 7:07 PM
Postcard

And we thought it was over! No way! This was incredible: the biggest hand-dug well in the world!

This is the cemented-over outside, with viewport.

This, then, is what it looks like inside.

Some of you might see this as a flamboyant attempt to distract you from a vacation full of disappointments and bad karma. Not at all, for we are far too proud to stoop to cheap theatrics. Rather, we believe the biggest hand-dug well in the world has significant historical and scientific value, and hope this will encourage you to visit it yourselves one day.

I can't believe I wrote that.

D&S