Greetings from Kansas.

Nice going, you really know your geography. You have correctly observed that this is not Kansas.

Rather, it's the object of our southwest obsession, El Cañon Grande, the Big Ditch, the Grand Canyon. We have reestablished a reservation at the bottom (you can get one, if you're lucky, in a phone call competition 13 months in advance, and we were lucky) in a cabin at Phantom Ranch – but this time in a cooler month. We got the last available opening for October, 2012.

Stay tuned.
